

BRIDGING GENERATIONS:

With Heroes of the Forgotten War

This event is organized to celebrate the Korean New Year and honor Korean War veterans. The Korean students have prepared a mini performance on Korean culture and history and want to share New Year celebrations with you all. Please join us to deliver our deep appreciation for the 'forgotten war' heroes as well as the host parents, teachers, and friends at Andover Public Schools who supported this program.

EVENT BACKGROUND

The Andover Public School and Educational Divide Reform (EDR) invited 27 Korean students for three weeks in January. While in the United States, students were fully immersed in the American society and engaged with American students and teachers. The EDR Intercultural Leadership Program allowed both American and Korean students to experience each other's cultures, share educational values, and build long-lasting friendships.

During their stay, the public annual event "Bridging Generations With Heroes of the Forgotten War", is held in West Middle School, Andover, MA. Hosted by EDR in collaboration with Korean War Veteran's Association (KWVA) and Andover Public Schools, "Bridging Generations" is an event that reminds the young generations of the Korean war veterans' sacrifice for freedom and democracy.

OPENING SPEECH

By Dr. Jay Jinseop Jang

President, Educational Divide Reform

History is Not a Book, but of Humans

I would like to start off by saying “Thank you” to Korea War veterans of America and Chapter 299 of the Korean War Veterans Association, Andover Public Schools, and Consulate General of the Republic of Korea in Boston, whose collaboration made this event possible. I am also grateful to Master Shin and his Tae Kwon Do Team, Lawrence/Andover YMCA, and all host families.

My staff and I organized this event in order to bridge generations in three ways: by learning history, appreciating sacrifice, and finding humanity.

First of all, we want our children to learn history. The Korean War is called Forgotten War. But it must not be forgotten.

To me personally, the Korean War’s history is not a book, but a human. I remember the Korean War with a scar on my father’s leg. When I was a child like you, I tried to know from my father how he fought in the bloody battle. If my father did not survive the war, I would have never existed.

My father passed away a long time ago, but I am really happy to meet his combat friends, American soldiers. You fought along with my father, thus you are my father's friends. I respect you as I respected my father.

Now I want to tell my lovely Korean students: History is not a paper book, not a video. History is of humans who are now living and lived in the past. At this moment, please close your paper book, and instead talk to real history, the Korean War heroes sitting near you.

Likewise, I want to tell respectable veterans: History is not a paper book, not a video. History is of humans who are now living and will live in the future. At this moment, please close your photobooks, and instead talk to real history, the young generations from South Korea, sitting near you. You will be happy to see the happy and well-nourished kids of the country where you saw starving orphans crying for their parents and food.

Korean children, you are a lucky generation. We are now living in a world where you can live peacefully with other nations. Everyone in every nation can become your friends, not enemies.

Even North Korea, we now understand that the regime and the dictators are bad, but humans living in North Korea are the same humans as you. Many North Koreans, after escaping the country for freedom, live around you.

Korea now has become a global economic power. Koreans are often considered beautiful and nice, perhaps thanks to Chun Jiyeon at the Korean TV drama of "You from the Star," or Psy's horse-riding dancing of "Gangnam Style."

It is good to feel proud and happy at present. However, please do not forget who contributed to your prosperity of today.

Just seventy years ago, your or your friends' grandfathers and grandmothers struggled to survive like this picture. Some tragically had no luck and died, falling in the cold winter sea. They survived the horrible lives, thanks to American grandfathers' sacrifice.

Just in the battle of Chosin Reservoir, almost 6,000 soldiers of the First Marine Division died from the cold and injury, calling for their mothers, in a foreign country which they had never known.

Many Korean survived thanks to American grandfathers' humanity. After the battle of Chosin Reservoir, American officers and soldiers were willing to throw away their heavy weapons in the sea to take as many refugees as possible in the ship of Victoria at the port of Hamheung, North Korea. The number of passengers in the ship was a Guinness-book world record high so even going to the toilet was not possible.

South Korea's success was built on the sacrifice of American grandparents as well as your Korean grandparents. We Koreans are decent people, who must thank the American grandparents for their sacrifice.

Luckily, you are today meeting these historic American grandfathers. As a child, you may think you have no power. No. Wrong. You are cute, but very powerful messengers, even more powerful than any Korean government officials.

You can deliver South Korea's genuine message to the heroes of the Korean War. "We Koreans will never forget you forever."

Now you come to know: History is not a book, but of humans.

APPRECIATION LETTERS

from Korean Students to Korean War Veterans

Hwan Kim, 5th grade

Dear Korean War Veterans

Hello. My name is Hwan Kim. I'm here for studying English. And I'm south Korean.

Thank you for your service in Korea. If you didn't participate in Korea war, maybe our president would be Jung-un Kim, and we will be under Kim's dictatorship. And that's awful. I respect you from the bottom of my heart. If I was you, I think I don't want to go to the Korean war because it is risky, and it is not related to America, but you did! I feel really, thank you and respect you.

Sincerely, Hwan Kim.

Thank you for Protecting Our Freedom

Ashley Park, 7th grade

Dear, Korean War Veterans

Hello, my name is Ashley.

Thank you for helping us when our country was in war.

If I was you, I think I can't fought in Korean War.

You are very respectful for me

If your country didn't help our country, we were supposed to be dead.

I think you are very brave.

Sincerely,

Ashley

Thank
you

Seunghyun Cha, 7th grade

Dear. Korean war veterans

Hello my name is Cha seong hyun (David) from Korea. I would like to say thank you to you. I want to be like you. without your service, I would probably be under Kim's dictatorship. It is because of you that I am able to come to the United States and study here. Once again, thank you for your service.

Thank you for Protecting Our Freedom

Minwoo Kim, 9th grade

Dear Korean War veterans.

Hello. I'm Minwoo Kim. My English name is Min. I'm live in Korea. Through this letter, I would like to express my gratitud for your service. I, min, would not be here if you did not fight for Korea. Thank you.

Sincerely, Min.

Leo Lee, 7th grade

Dear Korean war veterans

Hello I'm Leo from Korea. Before I continue with letter I just let you know my grandfather also fought Korean war. Writing this letter means a lot to me. Your service in Korea has saved millions of lives. Thank you, again, for your service and time in Korea.

Sincerely,

Leo

Annie Jeon, 7th grade

Dear. Korean War Veterans .

Hello, I am Annie. I am 13 years old.

I heard that you fought in the Korean War for South Koreans. I think you were really brave soldier. Thank you for fighting the Korean War for us. Thankfully, we can live in Korea peacefully. When I was 6th grade of elementary school, I learned about the Korean War. It was so terrible because both sides are in same country named Korea. Also, I learned that many people in various countries helped us to keep Seoul and win the battle. I can't imagine how hard the war is. Many people have died or injured during the war. I am not sure that if I was not Korean, I didn't fight in the Korean War. That's because it's just related in Korea. I don't participate in the war, if I am not Korean. I feel greatly thankful but I can't express enough by words. However, I want you to know that I appreciate your service.

Sincerely

Annie

Sooyoung Kim, 6th grade

Dear, Korean war veterans

Hello, my name is Soo Young Kim.

Thank you for fighting in the Korean War.

I think you gave us an enormous present for people.
Korea is exist, thanks to you.

And I'll remember Korean War Veterans.

And, I think, we should do our best for not to reply war.
I promise you.

Thank you, thank you so much.

From, Korean Student

To Whom It May Concern

- maybe: grandpa?

Hi ! I'm Blaire. I'm from Korea (Republic of), Ulsan, above Busan. (I hope you know Busan! It's biggest port city in Korea. U.S soilders' first landing spot was in Busan, I believe.) Well, my introductions was to long, huh? I want to say thank you. I'm so grateful of your brave behavior. With you and your comrades, our territory wouldn't be kept. I learned that it was really bad condition because the Soviet Union, and China helped North Korea. Thanks again to fight for us. You're my (our-Korea's) hero.

in detail, I'm from

With Love, Blaire Lee.

Thank you again! I wish you enjoy longevity! ☺

Hyeong-Gyu Kim, 6th grade

Dear Korean war veterans,
Hello my name is Hyeong-Gyu Kim and my English name is Jacob. The reason why I came here is because I wanted to study English more.

And Thank you for fighting in the Korean War.

If you had known me to fight, my country have become North Korea now.

I respect you all.

Thank you for Protecting Our Freedom

Thank you for Protecting Our Freedom

Na-yeon Lee, 7th grade

Dear. Korean War Veteran,

My name is Dana from South Korea. I am very thankful for fighting at Korean war.

I think you are very brave and very strong. Because you have lived through the war, I am very happy you did this for my country.

Maybe you are very scared and tired. But you fight at war for a long time.

I respect you.

Sincerely,

Dana OLTOI

Young-woo Cho, 7th grade

Dear Korean War Veteran...

Our South Koreans are very proud of you. If you didn't come to Korea and help the South, we would have lost the war. Maybe we could be North Korean. It's not very good to us. Because you helped South Korea, we could get the lead of the war. I'm so thankful of you.

If I become a big person in the world, I'll make a statue of 'Brave Korean War Veteran'. I think you are very brave and strong because you didn't get scared of war, or I fought for us. I want to be like you.

Thanks for Korea!

Sincerely, Wayne..

Thank
You!

Thank you for Protecting Our Freedom

An Appreciation Letter

from KWVA

Intercultural Leadership Program
Educational Divide Reform (EDR)
The Academy at Harvard Square (TAHS)
30 John F. Kennedy Street, Cambridge, MA 02138

Dear Students,

Thank you for participating in Bridging Generations: With Heroes of the Forgotten War. The American community and the Korea War Veterans Association are thankful to have such a hard working and thoughtful young person recognize our dedication to your country during the Korean War.

We salute your families abroad for encouraging you to come to the United States and learn more about America and the history this country shares with Korea. Your participation in this program is proof that our sacrifices are a part of your prosperity. We hope that you continue to strengthen the relationship between both nations and maintain a high standard for civil liberty, justice, and freedom that our countries value so highly.

Please remember that to be a global citizen and leader, it is absolutely imperative that you embrace the value of democracy and freedom. We fought alongside your forefathers so that you may have a bright future full of opportunities.

Congratulations again on a wonderful performance and taking steps towards being a leader.

We look forward to welcoming you back very soon to the United States of America.

Sincerely,

Captain Albert McCarthy

EVENT SPEECH

By Captain Albert McCarthy

2nd Vice President, KWVA

On behalf of our Korea veterans and myself, I would like to thank Dr. Cazabon and Dr. Jang for this very special occasion.

We veterans are very pleased and proud to be with you who have come so far to expand your knowledge of the world, and experience the special relationship of our two countries.

There are over three million American veterans who have served in Korea. Some fought against the Japanese to liberate Korea and help reestablish your nationhood in 1945. Some fought long and hard against extraordinary and sometimes impossible odds from 1950 to 1953 to ensure South Korea's survival.

And for the last 63 years Americans have served alongside ROK troops to protect and defend South Korea and the United Nations DMZ from a determined and tyrannical dictatorship in North Korea during the so-called armistice. An armistice that has seen the loss of 1,947 Americans and over 2,000 South Koreans.

Some have asked why America fought in Korea? The answer is simple; because the struggle for Freedom in Korea was and is, the same struggle for Freedom that we in America, fought so hard for, many years ago. The desire of the people of South Korea to live free and determine your own destiny was, and is, the same desire that the American people had in 1776 and still have today.

Our two countries have grown, developed, and prospered because the potential of our people was set free when our military forces defeated dictators who would enslave our minds, bodies, and souls.

So why are we Korea veterans here tonight? It is because you are our legacy. When we look in your eyes, when we hear you laughter, when we see what your country has done with its' freedom, we know that everything we Americans did, and still do, to help ensure your freedom has been worth every single drop of blood, every single drop of sweat, and every single tear that has been shed.

We are proud of what we did in Korea, and very proud of you, our legacy. God bless you,

God bless Korea, and God bless America.

Anyoung hashimnikka!

ABOUT EDR

Educational Divide Reform

Based in Cambridge/Boston, MA, the Educational Divide Reform (EDR) Institute is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit focused on inclusive social cohesion and community development via youth education. EDR supports immigrant and first-generation American students with the Step Up and Step Forward programs to boost academic and social-emotional learning, and offers the Pathfinder program for career exploration and mentoring in high school.

Internationally, EDR promotes global citizenship. The Power of Hope (POH) program develops leadership among North Korean refugees, enhancing democracy and prosperity, while the My Global Village program supports rural communities with projects aligned with the UN's Sustainable Development Goals.

EDR partners with governments, educational institutions, NGOs, corporations, and community organizations to achieve these goals.
